Portfolio

Heating and Cooling Website <http://web.njit.edu/~gd46/is117>

This project was done in class over a span of a few weeks. I was given a PSD file and converted it into a static HTML, CSS website

MathTimeTutoring <http://mathtimetutoring.com>

This project was done for a friend of mine. He has a part-time job tutoring students in various subjects and he was looking for a simple HTML, CSS website to display information about what he does. I was able to make this site for him in just a few days

Drupal E-Commerce it310.truedesignideas.com

This project is currently being developed as a project for an e-commerce class this semester. This site using the Drupal Commerce Kickstart distribution to set up the basis for a Drupal e-commerce website. The website will then be made to take bitcoins, and many other forms of payment to purchase model cars, airplanes, and other collectibles alike
